Judge Love to Impanel Special Grand Jury Monday Next.

BOARD OF HEALTH HOLDS MEETING

Proposed Depot at Corner of Fayette and Cameron Streets.

GENERAL AND PERSONAL

Evening Star Bureau, Bell Telephone No. 106,

ALEXANDRIA, Va., November 22, 1901. A special grand jury will be called Monday next by Judge J. M. Love, holding the November term of the Alexandria county court on Fort Myer Heights, for an investigation of the charges against Samuel Thompson, colored, now confined in the county jail. Thompson was arrested the latter part of October on a warrant charging him with assaulting Virgie Smith, a colored girl, aged about twelve years. He was conveyed before Magistrates William Moody and M. F. Birch, who referred the case to the grand jury. It was alleged that the offense occurred near Fort Myer. Thompson is about twenty-eight years of age. Should the jury report an indictment the case will probably be called before Judge Love some time next week.

Board of Health.

The board of health held its regular monthly meeting last night in the office of the commissioner of the revenue. There were present Drs E. A. Gorman, the chairman, and Messrs. James F. Peyton, M. T. Dwyer, J. W. Entwisle and P. M. Bradshaw. In the absence of the secretary Mr. Dwyer was selected to perform his duties for the evening. He read several reports as to the conditions existing in alleys, gutters, etc., recently inspected and con-demned by the board. It was explained that the mayor and city engineer have copies of these reports, and it was stated that an effort would soon be made to get the city council to take action in the mat-

Mr. Peyton, the chairman of the committee on laws, reported that he had been in correspondence with the health boards of other cities and had received copies of health laws and regulations. He promised to make a comprehensive report soon. The election of a member to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. J. Johnson Green was postponed until the next regular meeting. After a further discussion concerning sanitary conditions in the city the meeting adjourned.

New Depot Building.

It is stated that the Richmond, Freder icksburg and Potomac Railroad Company will soon construct a new depot building at the corner of Favette and Cameron streets. The present waiting room has long been a source of complaint. Several efforts have been made by prominent citizens in recent years to secure the erection of a new depot, but as long as the road was under the management of the Washington Southern Company the attempts were fruitless. Now that the road has changed hands it is hoped by citizens that the improvement will be

Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the committee charged with arranging for a fair to be given in the interest of the Alexandria Light Infantry was held last night in Armory Hall. Mrs. James A. Alexander, chairman of the committee. terested in the matter were present.

The foot ball team of the Episcopal High School, near this city, will wind up the season Saturday, November 30, with a game with Woodbury Forest School, on the High School grounds. There has been considerable rivalry between these two teams in former years and a hard-fought contest the High School eleven will line up on the local gridiron against the team from Mount St. Joseph College, Maryland. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

Police Commissioners Meet.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of police commissioners held Wed- life, cheerful people, are also those to nesday night Messrs. William Mayhew whom longest life is given. Commonplace and William L. Allen were elected police- though this sounds, there is no truth more men to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Policemen William Davis istence. "Oh, yes, of course, worry shortand James Deane The election was the ens life, and the contented people live to first business taken up. Each of the sucfirst business taken up. Each of the successful candidates received a unanimous vote. It was regarded as remarkable that the two factions into which the board is that if a man is not naturally cheerful he divided should have voted together, and is explained on the ground that one side looked for a complimentary vote on the first ballot by the other side, but it so happened that all voted for the same candi-

Commissioner Miller offered a resolution authorizing the secretary to employ counsel to institute proceedings against the city for the payment of the expenses incurred by the board in the case in the circuit court between that body and the mayor. Immediately factional lines were drawn. Commissioner Bryant seconded the reso-lution and it was also favored by Commissioner Hill. Commissioner Lawler and Mayor Simpson opposed it. The former argued that as the members of the board had incurred the indebtedness on their own responsibility they should bear it in-stead of trying to place it upon the taxpayers of the city, who, he held, were not in any way responsible for the litigation. Commissioner Bryant thought that the resolution, when tested, would prove what standing the board of police commissioners had under the laws of the state. He stated that Judge Nicol had placed the costs of the suit upon the commissioners as a body and not as individuals. He thought the taxpayers should have been considered before the first injunction was obtained.

The Mayor's Views.

Mayor Simpson then presented his views. He referred to a former case of litigation between the mayor of the c'ty (then Mr. Luther H. Thompson) and the police board. This case, the mayor said, Mr. Thompson had not received the sanction of the city council, but had consulted Mr. Samuel G. Brent, then corporation attorney, whom he had engaged to conduct the case, thus hav-ing the semblance of official authority. The board engaged other counsel without consulting the corporation attorney. When the bill of Mr. Thompson was presented it was paid without protest. This was not the case, the mayor went on to say, with the bill presented by the commissioners, there being the bitterest opposition to it. Mayor Simpson said there was a similar-ity between the case just cited and the present effort of the board to collect money from the city council. He said that in the recent suit the members of the board had employed counsel before he had asked Judge Nicol for an injunction. He asked Commissioner Bryant if he could deny that this was done before they had said anything to the corporation attorney in regard

Mr. Bryant admitted the accuracy of the mayor's statements, but said that the attorneys were retained for "general pur-poses." He said the city attorney did not care to take a stand between two wings of the city government, but the may-or retorted that while the office of mayor was a part of the corporation government the board of commissioners was not.

The matter was finally passed, Commissioners Bryant, Miller and Hill voting in

Meeting of Executive Committee in

Cleveland Yesterday. The executive committee of the McKinley

National Monument Association, after a long session at the office of Senator Hanna, in Cleveland yesterday, issued the following statement: "At a meeting of the executive committee of the McKinley National Memorial Association, held in Cleveland today, the secretary, Mr. Ryerson Ritchie, submitted reports from many states of the Union showing gratifying progress, and that the appeal to the people to provide funds for a memorial at Canton is meeting with very general and hearty response. A plan for future work was outlined, and the same will be pushed vigorously to completion. Reports received indicate that auxiliary organizations have already been perfected in nearly all states of the Union.

"The expression of sentiment from every quarter of the country indicates that the people desire to make the erection of a monument at the home of President Mc-Kinley their first duty, as it is well known that he often expressed to his family and friends his desire to be buried at Canton, where already repose the remains of his children, and where his beloved wife will rest when she has departed this life. In deference to this sentiment, as well as the propriety of the occasion, as evidenced in the monuments provided for the lamented Lincoln and Garfield, it will be the purpose of the association to carry forward the work of providing for such a memorial at his home. Should more funds be subscribed than are necessary for the purpose of erect-ing a memorial compatible with the dignity and simplicity of the late President's life and character, any surplus will be devoted to a national memorial at Washington.

'A letter from Secretary Gage, treasurer of the Washington Arch Association, to Senator Hanna was laid before the committee, but the questions involved in the com-munication were referred to the board of trustees at their meeting to be held at Washington December 7, when it is hoped that any possible difference may be adjusted. It was the sentiment of the members of the committee present that provis-ion for a sultable memorial at Canton was the first duty to be performed.
"This purpose is believed to be in accordance with the wishes of the family and near personal friends of the President. A reply to Secretary Gage's letter embodying the above sentiments was forwarded to Those in attendance at the meeting were:

LAUGHTER AND LONG LIFE.

Becoming Old.

From the London Lancet. It may be that some enthusiastic and laborious German statistician has already accumulated figures bearing upon the question of length of life and its relation to the enjoyment thereof; if so, we are unacquainted with his results and yet have a very decided notion that people who enjoy commonly ignored in actual every-day excannot make himself so. Yet this is far from being the case, and there is many a man who is at present a weary burden to his relatives, miserable through the carking care of some bodily ailment perhaps or some worldly misfortune, who, if he had grown up into the idea that to be cheerful under all circumstances was one of the first duties of life, might still see a pleastruly remarked that the world is for each world. If we face it with a cheery accept-ance we find the world fairly full of cheerful people glad to see us. If we snarl at it and abuse it we may be sure of abuse in return. The discontented worries of a morose person may very likely shorten his days, and the general justice of nature's arrangement provides that his early de-parture should entail no long regrets. On the other hand, a man who can laugh keeps his health and his friends are glad to keep him. To the perfectly healthy laughter comes often. Too commonly, though, as childhood is left behind the habit fails, and thought-lined mouth of a modern man or People become more and more burdened with the accumulations of knowledge and with the weighing responsibilities of life, but they should spare time to laugh. Let them never forget, moreover, and let it be a medical man's practice to remind them that "a smile sits ever serene upon the face of wisdom."

From the London Tablet. The ancient astronomical instruments so unceremoniously looted by the German troops from Pekin observatory are interesting scientific relics. They were constructed by Father Verbiest, one of the Jesuit missionaries who made their way into China in the seventeenth century, and were erected in a pre-existing observatory on the eastern wall of the city in the year 1673. They consisted of a sextant, quad-rant, azimuth, circle, armillary sphere and revolving sidereal globe, copies of the in-struments contrived and used by Tycho Brahe, which did not include a telescope. Another azimuth instrument was added later, which differs from the older ones in being devoid of the profuse ornamentation of dragons and serpents with which they were decorated. At the four corners of a tower on the platform of the observatory were stationed four mandarins charged with observing and recording daily the weather, meteors and all other atmospheric phenomena.

The new instruments displaced two older ones, which have an equally interesting his-tory. They were erected, according to native authorities, in the year 1279 in the reign of Kublai Khan, the grandson of Jenghis Khan, by the astronomer Kow Show-King, appointed by him to the control of the waterways of the empire, and later, in 1276, to revise the existing system of chronology. Two of the instruments used by him were kept in a closed building in the court yard of the observatory, and Trinity Episcopal Church at Manassas was the scene of a pretty marriage at 10 of them, as one was an equatorial armilla, showing that the Chinese astronomers had anticipated the invention of Tycho Brahe Maidie Davies of Manassas, wedded Mr. E. by 300 years. The second instrument con-Humphrey Hibbs, also of that place. The sisted of a double declination circle on ceremony was performed in the presence which the degrees and minutes were marked by prominent studs of iron, which could be felt in the dark.
